Correction

The name of one of the hostesses for the Woman's Club Art Show held February 21 was unintentionally omitted from our Page One story last week. Mrs. Howlette B. Martin also assisted in serving guests at Fidelity National Bank. More than one hundred guests registered during the afternoon, and additional visitors viewed the paintings during the week.

Old Fashioned Doll

This doll is 19 years old—but now is dressed in a new Centennial dress in light blue peau de soie with a ruffled bonnet as befits a well dressed doll of the 1800's. The dress was designed and sewed by Mrs. Tilden Lee for Mrs. Hugh Jackson's Antique Shop, Route 1, Lynchburg. More than 38 yards of lace went into the dress trim and lace slip and pantaloons. Mrs. Lee is also making doll dresses for old-fashioned dolls and for the teen-age fashion dolls so popular with little girls today.
